DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Election November 4th

For President:
JOHN W. DAVIS

For Vice-President:
CHARLES W. BRYAN

For Congress
Tenth Congressional District
HARRY ST. GEORGE TUCKER

At Buckingham

Judge Buckingham on the bench for his fall term and the docket heavy enough to hold him for a week is the outlook.

At 11 o'clock Congressman Tucker was given the courthouse for a speech. He spoke for an hour and his old friends said Harry looked younger and better than they had ever seen him. His speech created enthusiasm and Buckingham will give her usual majority for the entire ticket. He was introduced by Col. Hubbard. The County Committee and mass-meeting endorsed the Congressman's course and condemned the Child Labor amendment.

The Grand Jury is still considering indictments. A negro boy 14 years of age shot and killed Alex Morgan's wife and confessed the crime. Emmett Gregory charged with shooting Charles Jones will be defended by Col. Stiode and Claud Wood.

A. C. Garnett is making an addition to his store, doubling its capacity.

George Patteson, J. K. Irving and Tom Turner regular attendants, were on the court green shaking hands with friends.

Co-Ops Picnic

The meeting and picnic of the "Co-ops" at Vera Saturday, the 11th, was a signal success; the attendance was between 800 and 1000. County president and vice-president both being absent, Mr. Byrne was made chairman of the meeting by unanimous vote of the assembly. The following gentlemen made short talks and introduced the principal speakers: Commonwealth Attorney Flood, Hon. Beauregard Thornhill, W. H. Byrne and A. R. Harwood. Rev. Mr. Gordon opened the exercises with prayer, in the forenoon, after Mr. Flood's address of welcome, Mr. Oliver J. Sands, executive manager of the Tri-State Tobacco-Growers Association, gave facts and figures relating to the business of the association, and told of the wonderful progress made in the business world by the farmers in three years of co-operation. After Mr. Sands' address, a recess was called for dinner—and such a dinner! the spread was a delight to the eye as well as to the palate—everyone enjoyed and voted this part of the program a success, after dinner a real "cussin out" was given the disloyal members by Mr. Thomas, of Dinwiddie county, who described himself as a "farmer plain and simple; but of really more importance to the association than Mr. Sands himself". His talk was much enjoyed, and if there were any disloyal members present we pity them. Mr. Thomas was followed by our director, C. W. Wingfield of Nau-na, whose talk was instructive and inspiring. Mr. T. E. Chambers of Blackstone, Va., manager of the warehouses in the dark tobacco belt, also made a few pertinent remarks by way of encouragement—and his talk was a fitting one to conclude the exercises.

Many independent growers were present and seemed to be impressed and pleased by the cordiality of their reception.

Hon. Harry St. George Tucker was present and was to have made an address; but was called away by an urgent message, much to the regret of all present.

The Abbitt boys furnished the music for the occasion.

We are indebted to our regular correspondent for this report.—Editor.

STATE CAPITAL

For More Equal Rating Of Taxes.

Richmond.—

Some of the commissioners of the revenue of the State—representing each county and city—favor an assessment of property for taxation on a basis approaching something like a fair regard to value and in keeping with the values in other counties and cities than their own. There is a discrepancy in the rate ranging from 3 per cent. in Grayson county to 80 per cent. in Amherst.

The commissioners of the revenue to the number of seventy-five out of the 226 in the State attended a meeting held in Murphy's Hotel. W. A. Francis, of Salem, is president of the organization, with D. R. Hunt, of Roanoke, secretary-treasurer.

Sentiment among the best informed of the commissioners favors holding meetings in each of the ten congressional districts, the chairmen to be named later, and to have every commissioner in such district attend to discuss plans looking to a general adjustment of the assessments of personal property. The existing differences were noted by W. P. Parr, of the office of the auditor, who called attention to the absurd work that is returned by some of the commissioners. The assessments, it is said, are reflected in the poor schools in counties that let the rest of the State pay their school expenses.

Nothing can be done by the commissioners this year, but intelligent action and co-operation, it is argued, will do wonders for the counties and cities the coming year, placing the assessments on something like an even basis and ridding them of the charge that they are being taken care of by the rest of the State. President Hunt said he would ask the chairmen to call meetings of the commissioners in their districts at the first opportunity.

Auditor Moore, J. Vaughan Cary and others addressed the meetings, explaining the work they had to do and commending them for the spirit of co-operation, but it was the speech of Mr. Parr that opened the eyes of the members. He told them that the valuations placed by the commissioners impaired the sales value of the property, that no one wanted to pay a large price for property which had such low valuations placed on it. Mr. Parr told the commissioners that they only can correct the existing and notorious inequalities obtaining on property in the State.

Auto Licenses Show Great Gain.

Automobile license taxes collected since January 1 already are $437 000 ahead of the total for 1923, $314,000 ahead of the estimate made by Governor Trinkle in his statement to the General Assembly and the public, and probably will exceed that estimate by $450,000 when all taxes for the next three months are included.

These figures were compiled by Governor Trinkle. "Total taxes collected in 1923 from the sale of licenses to motor vehicles amounted to $8,189,343," the Governor said, "while in 1924, with three months to come, the State has derived $8,616,000 from this source."

James H. Hayes, Jr., Motor Vehicle Commissioner, expects the total for the year to reach $8,750,000, Mr. Trinkle said. This will bring the year's total $561,000 greater than the total for 1923, while the Governor's estimate added only $113,000 to last year's figure.

"I am naturally gratified at this encouraging increase in the revenues from the auto license tax," Mr. Trinkle said in announcing the figures, "and I am sure the people of the State will be glad to hear of it. In making my estimates of probable revenue for road-building and maintenance, I tried to be as conservative as possible, but I am frank to say that the increase of $450,000 over and above my estimate surprises me."

Legion To Advance Interest Of State.

Methods of advancing the interests of the State by the American Legion were outlined by Department Commander T. J. Michie, of the American Legion, at the installation exercises of officers of Richmond Post, No. 1, of the legion, at the post home. A study of tax equalization, the development of Hampton Roads and community welfare work will be made by the legion and a definite legislative program mapped out at the next department convention, he stated.

A service will be conducted each month at St. Mark's Episcopal Church for the post, it was decided. Contributions were received for the city memorial to the World War dead.

ONE LAWYER'S WORK

Good lawyers are such accurate, minded folk that I shall feel safer if I share Florence Monahan's letter with you word for word. Otherwise some phrase would be sure to get to a wrong-twisted meaning. I know.

STATE REFORMATORY FOR WOMEN
Florence Monahan, Superintendent.
Shakopee, Minn.

Dear Mrs. Miller:

Born in Chicago, I have always lived in a city until I took charge of this institution four years ago. However, I may say that I like living in the small town very much better than in the city.

I began my work as a schoolteacher, as so many women do. While teaching school I studied law and, after receiving my degree, I went into the Minnesota children's bureau to handle illegitimacy cases. This bureau carries out the model children's laws of Minnesota. The bureau is under the state board of control, and when the reformatory for women was opened the board of control thought that, through my experience with all sorts of girls, I could manage this institution.

We have an average population of about sixty women, all over eighteen years of age. Our average age is about thirty years. Women are sentenced here for felonies and gross misdemeanors. We have all the women convicted of any crime which carries with it a sentence of more than a year, including life prisoners. I have eight women on my staff and five men.

You will see that it is rather difficult for me to answer your questions in regard to the average girl starting in to work. It seems to me that whether she starts in a big city or a small town does not matter so much as her own ability in whatever work she tries to do.

I am intensely interested in the League of Women Voters and have been on the state board since it was organized, and previous to that time I was on the state board of the old suffrage organization.

Very truly yours,
FLORENCE MONAHAN,
Superintendent.

The Culinary Art

Celeste, who could rattle French with a flea air, called 'em "gateaux de mon-camuté à la plaque" but between you and me, they were just plain old homley griddle cakes, but mighty good. Lawsy, I'll never forget the time that old mammy Celeste showed me how to make this creole dish. Now I can make them almost as good as she could. Here's the way I do it: Boil and mash 3 cups of hominy and add to it a cup of self-rising flour. Beat 3 eggs very light, and add 3 cups of sweet milk. Bake the mixture on a griddle to a golden brown. Serve with New Orleans Molasses.

Celeste de Ris.

Left-over rice was never thrown away by Celeste. She would use it for her beloved rice muffins or "galette de ris" in this way: Mash 2 cups of boiled rice through a sieve and add to it the yolks of 2 eggs beaten very light. Add a pint and a half of sweet milk and 1 tablespoon of lard or butter and then sift in a cup of self-rising flour. Add 2 tablespoons of sugar and the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Bake the mixture in muffin rings in a quick oven for about fifteen or twenty minutes. They are delicious for breakfast or luncheon and very nourishing, too.

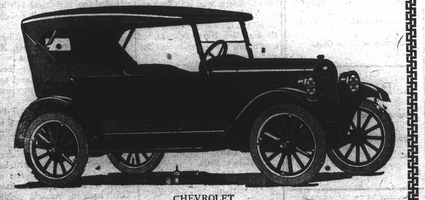
Health Insurance for the Whole Family



CHEVROLET

Without counting the daily utility of a Chevrolet for going back and forth to work, shopping or taking the children to school, etc., its value in saving doctor's bills, broadening your mental horizon and keeping the whole family physically fit, amounts to more than the cost of the car and its upkeep. It is more of an essential to the modern family than anything else but a home. Chevrolet meets the requirements of the modern family because it is economical to buy and maintain, because of its excellent appearance and riding comfort, because it can be depended upon, and because it is so easy to drive that any member of the family can use it.

Mrs. Lois Chandler

This estimable lady died at her home here late Monday evening in the 29th year of her age. Deceased was a daughter of Mrs. E. E. Taylor, Prince Edward County. About ten years ago she came here with her husband, Pat Chandler and she has greatly endeared herself to the people of this town. She was particularly popular among the young people. She was a loyal and consistent member of the Methodist church and was always ready and willing to do her part by her church and its activities. Ten days ago she was taken ill of pneumonia and all that could be done to arrest the attack was without success, and she yielded up the fight with resignation Monday. Her funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. L. Stevenson, assisted by Rev. Redding of the Presbyterian church at her late home, and her remains were taken by friends of the family to Crewe, Va., where they were interred yesterday.

Her sister and Mr. Chandler's mother and sister were here.

Our people sympathize with Mr. Chandler in his affliction. She leaves no children.

Revivals

One of the most successful revivals ever held at Mount Comfort M. E church came to a close Wednesday night. G. L. Liggan (Bullet) who has conducted services there for the last ten days, spoke to the largest crowds that have ever gathered at Mt. Comfort church. As a result of these services there were 22 converts and 340 reconsecrations.

We believe that Mr. Liggan has done more for the up-building of God's kingdom in this section than has been done in its history.

He leaves behind hundreds of friends who wish him God speed and a return next year.

We also wish to thank every one who helped us during this meeting.

J. W. C. MARTIN, Lay Leader

The Billy Sunday Club, that is conducting services at Keysville, is meeting with great success. The following letter received here will be of interest to many of our readers:

"The Billy Sunday meeting did not close here Sunday night as we expected. The entire audience voted to continue the meeting.

Keysville is moved as it never has been moved before. People that have not spoken for years have forgiven each other, and now talking from the same platform for God and His cause. People that never could be reached before have come forward and accepted Christ. Can not say at this hour when the meeting will close. Billy Sunday Club of men and women has been organized and they are giving their testimonies this week".
—Charlotte Gazette.

Joe O'Brien, our townsman, is conducting these services.

Card of Thanks

We are most grateful to every one for the kindness and deep sympathy shown us in our darkest hour of sorrow.

MRS. WILLIE T. WRIGHT and FAMILY

Darlington Heights

Farmers have been quite busy the past few weeks cutting tobacco and corn. There has been some frost but not enough to damage anything.

Gardens are now affording more vegetables than in the latter part of summer, while it was so dry.

There is an unusual fine crop of apples and pears and much of the fruit is being hauled to the cold storage in our nearest town, Farmville.

Several of our farmers around here attended the Richmond Fair.

Mrs. Thomas Snead, (nee Miss Belle Towler), of Kingston, West Virginia, will spend this month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Towler.

Mrs. Sam Thackston and Mrs. J. P. Baker were visitors in the home of Nathan Bell, on Thursday. Mr. Bell, who has been sick for sometime, is much better.

Herman Scruggs and family expect to move near Bothlehem.

Richard Moore, of Bluefield, West Virginia spent several days the past week in the home of S. H. Thackston.

The school at this place is progressing nicely with Miss Anne Foster as principal.

Mrs. Maude Glover, of Crewe, is the expected guest of Mrs. Sam Thackston.

Many of the ladies here are invited to Mrs. Geo. Oliver's tomorrow to a quilting.

Mrs O. H. Towler ann children, have returned to their home at Glover, after spenning several days with Mrs. E. B. Towler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockett Womack are under congratulations — a little girl, Rose Elliotte.

Mrs. J. M. Martin continues on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baker were the guests at S. H. Thackston's on Sunday.

Miss Josephine Towler. who teaches at Bethel, is at home for the week-end.

Watch out wedding bells will soon be ringing near here.

It is beginning to be lonesome for some of us, as soon many of our boys and girls will be off teaching or at school. May God watch over and keep them ever under the shadow of his wing.

Mrs. J. L. Edwards who recently returned from South Boston hospital, where she underwent a very serious operation, is said to be as well as could be expected.

STONEWALL

Miss Lizzie Rice of West Brook Hospital, Rieffmond, arrived last week to spend some time in the home of S. E. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jacobs of Richmond, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stratton Sr.

Miss Fannie LeGrand of Lynchburg, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Albert Stratton.

A party of men from Appomattox camped at Stonewall several days last week and fox hunted. They captured several brush and the people of the neighborhood enjoyed the chase. We hope they will come again and give us some more fun.

Mrs. Lois Moore Perrow of Sherwill, continues very ill, Miss Alpha Moore is with her.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Drinkard, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Drinkard and daughter, Frances, and Glenn Drinkard of Lynchburg, spent Sunday at W. H. Drinkard's.

Several Co-ops and families attended the picnic at Vera Saturday.

Dr. Christian and family were visitors at the home of C. M. Stratton Sunday.
